

DEPARTMENT OF M.A PMIR

COURSE OUTCOME

| Sl. No. | Core                                | COURSE OUTCOME  |
|---------|-------------------------------------|---|
| 1       | General Management                  | The study of management will provide you with the tools and skills needed to land leadership positions, head up your own company, as well as manage teams, individuals, and organizations effectively.  |
| 2       | Industrial Relations                | Students learn the relation in the industry created by the diverse and complex attitudes and approaches of both management and workers in connection with the management of the industry.   |
| 3       | Labour Legislations                 | Students learn The basic subject matter of labour law can be considered under nine broad heads: employment; individual employment relationships; wages and remuneration; conditions of work; health, safety, and welfare; social security; trade unions and industrial relations; the administration of labour law; and special provisions for labours. |
| 4       | Industrial Sociology and Psychology | Students will be able to understand the study of people at work and is concerned with the entire spectrum of human beings. Its scope is the entire process of management dealing with people at work.   |
| 5       | Organizational Behaviour            | The study of organizational behaviour gives insight on how employees behave and perform in the workplace. It helps us develop an understanding of the aspects that can motivate employees, increase their performance, and help organizations establish a strong and trusting relationship with their employees.  |
| 6       | Human Resource Management           | It is a comprehensive and strategic approach that of managing the workplace environment, culture, and the people involved.  |
| 7       | Human Resource Development          | Students get to know how to deal with the development of human resources for efficient utilization of these resources in order to achieve the individual, group and organizational goals.   |

|    |  |  |
|----|--|--|
| 8  | Strategic Management                                 | It is a comprehensive and strategic approach that of managing the workplace environment, culture, and the people involved.   |
| 9  | Industrial and Managerial Economics                  | Students will able to learn The subject matter of industrial economics incorporates the study of theory of the firm, decision regarding price, investment, location of firms, wages of labour, advertising strategy, elements of market structure, demand analysis, determinants of profitability, industrial policy and government regulation |
| 10 | Research Methodology and Statistics                  | A research methodology gives research legitimacy and provides scientifically sound findings. It also provides a detailed plan that helps to keep researchers on track, making the process smooth, effective and manageable.  |
| 11 | Management Information System                        | Studying the management of informational systems allows you to understand the demands put on employees and practical ethical challenges that may arise in the future. Studying management information system is going to make you understand the role of information technology in the company.  |
| 12 | Marketing management                                 | This management field deals with advertising and making strategies for expanding the public reach of the company.  |
| 13 | Financial management                                 | Finance management deals with the management of the financial assets of the company. It also focuses on generating increased revenue for the company for better results.   |
| 14 | Total Quality Management and productivity Management | Also known as Production and Operation Management, this department deals with industrial processes, planning, and control. This ensures a smooth and quality transaction at every level.   |